Drawings of 9 girls

Bill Khao dau j'naishi has covered skulls saved to Karos given to group last year but not to her mother.

After I asked them to draw some things beside aprons & head ornaments they drew scarifications. I drew a double skin garment the little Karos worn by girls.

They are all loaded with beads. Some wear 2 aprons one wear a feather & gisa

None have leg scarification yet.

Ban & Nisa both married have face scarification they may be 10

Others 8 or 9

Session began by my asking them to draw as they do on the Manghetti trees. They all had drawn - with digging sticks.

First time any had held a pencil they have papers on floor, tent - with a file folder under each.

Note - as to my thinking the aprons are sexual rather than fertility symbols - I mean more directly sexual - there is no giggling or smirking nor hesitation on the part of the girls. When they were asked to draw they did so naturally are enjoying it simple writing & Each is now filling a paper with scarifications
