The Counsel General

New York 21, New York

Sir:

I enclose the passport of Mr. Nicholas M. England, Jr., and request that he be granted a visa to visit the Union of South Africa beginning in March, 1958, for three to four months.

Mr. England will be a member of the Peabody Harvard-Smithsonian Kalahari Expedition, under the leadership of Mr. Laurence K. Marshall to whom you issued a visa on September 23, 1957. In addition, visas were also issued to Mr. Robert G. Gardner, Mr. John K. Marshall, and Mr. Robert C. Gesteland in response to a letter from me to you dated October 2, 1957.

Mr. England will join our expedition which is conducting important scientific work in the Kalahari Desert in South West Africa.

Sincerely yours,

J. O. Brew, Director

Dear Laurence:

There are so many things to write about. First, I enclose a copy of a letter that came in sometime ago from John Purcell, Editor of Natural History Magazine, which he wrote upon receipt of the manuscript of John's article. I have already written you about Purcell's plans to make a big spread of the article in the two double summer editions of Natural History.

Bob and I are continuing our campaign with the foundations. There is no question that THE HUNTERS and the project is beginning to be known. We will continue putting on the pressure during January and February. Among those foundations we will approach during the next three weeks are the Sloan Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, The Social Science Research Council and the American Council of Learned Societies. We are accumulating in New York a useful group of advisors and are trying everything that they suggest.

We have picked up a few donations, significant in themselves, but, of course, small in terms of our needs. Included in these is a gift of $2000 from Peabo Gardner and $1000 from a friend of his, Benjamin Kulp, who is head of the Wilson Jones Company in Chicago, which makes note books, binders, etc.

Next week the material from the Geographical Building will be moved over to our basement. At present masons are completing the cinder block film storage room, people are laying the floor and the steam fitters are changing the pipes, in fact, room F is humming with activity. When it gets done, it will not be exactly pretty, but I think it will give the boys a good place to work until something better can be achieved. I feel reasonably sanguine that when the new visual arts center gets built, we will be able to get an appropriate place in it.

I have only one question at the moment. Mr. English, a graduate student in the Music Department, continues to impress us very favorably. As you know, he has applied for a Ford Fellowship in order to come over when Bob does. This, of course, does not mean that he will get it. My question is, in case his fellowship does not come through, would the expedition be interested in paying his way over there. My own feeling is that this could be quite worthwhile. On the other hand, I get the impression that you are spending considerably more over there than you had originally planned for this season. Will you please let me know by return air mail whether or not I should provide money from expedition funds for his transportation to Windhoek, in case his fellowship does not materialize.

Lorna is baby-sitting in New York and I hear that Elizabeth has finished the Knopf book.

Bob's article in Daedalus is out and very good indeed. Meriden Gravure did a wonderful job on the pictures and they are phenomenally clear. We are getting reprints and I will send you some as soon as they arrive. It will be very useful for us in our present promotional campaign.

With best wishes from all.

Sincerely,

Dear Laurence:

In reply to various cables—first, Nick England cannot come before the time he has been planning, which is to go in with Bob in the middle of March. He has a number of commitments here, plus the fact that his wife is not well. She will be in shape for him to leave in a month's time, but not now.

Elisofon's Africa trip has been postponed, so there is no question of him being with us and no visa is being requested.

England's visa has come through as I cabled to you yesterday. Everything seems to be in good shape here. Our construction project in the basement is moving according to schedule. Half of the room is done and we have brought the stuff over from the Geographic Institute.

I enclose a copy of the off-print of Bob Gardner's article in Daedalus. This will be very useful to us, I think. I am sorry for the misspelling of your first name in the caption of one of the pictures. This seems to have got by everyone. The pictures are about as clear as any I have seen recently. They are done by offset by Harold Hugo at the Meriden Graver Company.

I have seen the rushes of the films that have come back from Rochester. They are very exciting. Also, during the last two days, Bob and I have been looking at slides and transparencies. The feeling grows with me all the time that we have got a tremendous thing. Just a simple picture of Bushmen making your garden illustrates it. We have years of record of the wild Bushman; now we are getting the change-over. This year certainly emphasizes your wisdom eight years ago when you told me that we would have to get the Bushmen then if we wanted to get them at all.

Lorna has been in New York most of the time since New Year's, baby-sitting while Elizabeth finishes her book for Alfred Knopf. We have had almost continuous rain here for two weeks. It would have been wonderful had it been snow (lots of people around here wouldn't agree with that statement).

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

J. O. Brew

Dear Laurence:

I enclose a letter which we have just received from a Mr. Abraham writing for Dr. Marais of the "First Trans-African Waterway Expedition;" and also a copy of Bob Gardner's answer.

Lorna, Bob, England, and I looked at two cans of rushes from Byron this afternoon, including wonderful shots of people asleep under karosses. It is wonderful stuff. I have never seen such realism in movies. While we were watching it, little hummings in the machine translated themselves automatically in my mind to the sound of people singing Bushmen songs quietly. I was really frightened the first time this happened.

I sent you a letter yesterday addressed to Windhoek, including a copy of the off-print of Bob Gardner's Daedalus article. I enclose another copy. We didn't notice the missprint in your name under Lorna's picture until everything was all printed up.

The asphalt tile floor in the second half of the new Film Study Center goes down tomorrow. The painting is all done around the sides of the area. In a few days' time all that will be left to do is to put up the interior partitions, which will not take long. We should be able to get the whole thing in reasonably good shape before Bob leaves. I am terribly pleased about this.

We are showing THE HUNTERS tomorrow to Bernard Cohen (the History of Science man) who is a member of the panel of the National Science Foundation. He is one of our most enthusiastic supporters, but he has never seen the film. It is all based on what other people have told him, so we thought he had better see it himself.

With best wishes to all.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Brew,

The list of errata and correcta was dispatched to you some two weeks ago by air mail. The printers again have let me down. I hope you have received them safely.

The second instalment of my Kalahari recordings (!Ki5 dialect) should have appeared in the December issue of African Studies as promised. Now, I am told that they may appear in June or possibly even in December 1958. I am so disgusted with both printer and editor that I am now seeking new avenues of publication elsewhere.

When Mr. Marshall was here in October last he told me that he would ask you to send me the 1 gikwe recordings taken in the last phase of the 1955 Kalahari Expedition. If nobody else is working on them, I would like to do so, as they concern very vitally a study I am preparing on the Central Group, to which they belong.

I have also in hand a publication of some Korama(?) folktales collected some years ago. They are unobtainable today and all the old folk are dead and the new generation do not know them. The archaic Korama language might be also connected with Bushman.

With kindest regards,

Dear Laurence:

Lorna has got back from New York, having had a wonderful time minding Stephanie while Elizabeth was finishing her book. She let me see your letter to her about Film and the University.

You will be glad to know that we have made a beginning (aside from our Film Study Center, which of course is the real beginning). I guess it would be more accurate to say we have made a beginning with regard to actual teaching. The most obvious approach has been followed, the technical one. On the other hand, as you read the enclosed statement about the proposed course, you will see that a lot more than just the technical aspects are going to be in it.

As for the future, I am counting very much on the increasing liaison we are working up with the School of Design (who are the major factor in the new visual arts building) to help promote our aims in this direction.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Laurence:

The November 1957 issue of the South African magazine, Panorama, has a picture of a smiling Dane sitting in a tent, apparently boiling coffee. The following caption is under the picture:

"TRACKING THE BUSHMEN Mr. Jens Bjerre, a Danish explorer, is spending six months in the Kalahari Desert studying the Bushmen people. During his tour he expects to take some 150,000 feet of colour-film. His 14' x 7' x 4' living tent folds out of the back of his caravan."

Do you know anything about this chap? I am trying to find out at this end. He at least seems to have the right idea in the realization that one should take a reasonable amount of film.

Bob Gardner and I plan to go down to New York on Thursday and Friday to present our case to the Rockefeller Foundation. Incidentally, we will try to contact others, including the American Council of Learned Societies and the Social Science Research Council. These last two are long shots, but you never can tell.

The Film Study Center in the basement is getting along very well. The pipes have all been removed from under the floor, asphalt tile flooring is installed throughout, painting is completed and looks very good, and the wooden partitions are being installed. There seems no doubt that we will be able to get the equipment currently on hand set up before Bob leaves.

Evelyn and I were over to Bob's last night. The Englands were there too, and we looked at two spools of new film. We were all very much excited about the stuff that John is getting this year.

Dear Laurence:

I wrote you previously about the reference in the November, 1957 issue of South African Panorama about the Danish explorer who is on a six month's expedition in the Kalahari Desert studying the Bushman and taking 150,000 feet of movies. I wrote to the Wenner-Gren Foundation in New York for information and have received the enclosed. This morning I obtained Bjerre's book, The Last Cannibals, from the Library. Mrs. Appell (Laura Reynolds) has read it and says it is good reading on a popular level, dealing with aboriginal Australians and certain people in New Guinea. The illustrations are extensive and pretty good. I have thumbed through it and Bob Gardner has it now.

Nick England has received his Ford Grant so will not be a charge on the expedition for his transportation. We shall have to advance it though as the grant will not come through until June.

Everything is fine here. We had 19 inches of snow on Sunday and low temperatures ever since so everything is still beautiful. It must be beautiful up in Peterborough.

Dear Professor Maingard:

Thank you very much for your letter of January 30. I have refrained from answering up until this date in the hopes that the Errata and Correcta which you mention would arrive. We have seen nothing of them.

Will you please look into this and see what has happened. Perhaps they were sent by ordinary mail, in which case it might be a long time before we see them.

Mr. Marshall is at present in the Kalahari where they are getting films of the end of the primitive life of our !Kung Bushmen. They are to be put on a reserve. The pictures which have been sent back from this year's expedition show striking changes already. They are building Bantu type huts, wearing more clothes and already appearing much more sophisticated.

Because of his absence, I cannot ask Mr. Marshall about the !Gikwe recordings. I will do so, however, when he gets home; and also I have sent him a copy of your letter, though I have no certainty that it will reach him before he returns. He has been expected for some weeks.

I am sorry to hear about your difficulties with publication, but it is the same over here. Periodicals almost never get articles out when they say they are going to. It almost seems to be a matter of pride with the editors of journals to break their promises in these matters.

Dear Dr. Bruy,

It's quite early - sun just above the first cloud bank on the horizon. Today is another day of change at the camp. John is ill; he is going in to Windhuk for some tests - Bob Grist and two of the boys go along. He has hired a new mechanic, who will meet him in Windhuk and work and return to camp with him. I wanted to get a little note to you, to send you greetings from the Mankwe forest and to tell you once again how deeply grateful I am for your interest and guidance throughout this whole African adventure. The work begins rather slowly (or perhaps I am impatient). I spent the first two weeks establishing what I feel to be some solid relationships with the Kung who are gathered here around the Marshall's camp. Several introductions to music and dance - some recordings - one or two definite leads (which I will follow up when the camp situation stabilizes once again) regarding earlier history of the songs of the !Kung. I am incredibly happy, and I hope to remain so. How are you when I know more? Hope you are well. Please give my regards to your wife. Also my greetings to Eunice & Carol.

Cordially,

Nick

Dear Jo:

let me try to straighten out the mess up over Blitz. I saw him one or two days before leaving and he offered to look at a sample of the processed rolls as they came in after I left in order to advise about any major defect or difficulty, we might otherwise not be aware of. I told him this was fine and I would leave equipment and instructions. Unfortunately the entire matter slipped my mind until I got your cable just now. Also, respectfully, I lost the key to the storage cabinet in the screening room and forget whether I left a viewer out to be used. Considering the quite uncertain manner in which I left all this, I would like to...
Leave it up to you to decide. My advice is this — that a viewer be gotten out of the locked cabinet and that 1)

Andy be asked to check some of the rolls coming back from the processor (Eastman). This would mean he would begin with Shipment #8. I do not want anyone else looking at this material because it requires considerable care and attention in order to not harm the original film. I do think it advisable that Andy do this, but do not think it absolutely necessary. I am writing Andy in this mail to tell him that I have left the matter up to you because of my departure without making provisions for him doing this work.

One more thing: if Mr. or Mrs. or Elly Marshall are looking for 52-53 B&W still negatives they are in the fastest from the door cabinet to the right as you go in the film storage room.

One more thing: I said nothing about asking Roger (I understand he's going

Dear John:

Thank you for your letter of March 15. I will show the pictures to Mr. Marshall. It is certainly going to be a wonderful spread. Possibly Mr. Marshall may be home tomorrow. His mother, who is 102, had a burst appendix last Wednesday, and although she dangled on Saturday and walked yesterday, Marshall, I presume, was naturally doubtful of our cable saying everything was all right, given the age of the patient, etc., and may have left Johannesburg already. He was planning to come home within a week or two anyway, now that Bob Gardner and Nick England have gone over to join John.

It is nice of you and your colleagues at the American Museum of Natural History to offer to help our project. The appearance of these articles will in itself give us an appreciable boost. What we need, of course, primarily is money; and although we are now a completely self-sufficient sound studio and can do things much, much cheaper than Hollywood, the sum of money involved is considerably in excess of the amounts that are generally parceled out for anthropological projects.

If you have a chance to accidentally mention the article and us to your Mr. Gardner, it wouldn't do any harm. We are dealing with the Rockefeller Foundation at the moment.

With best wishes to all,

I believe that John Purcell mentioned in his letter of March 15th that we would be eager to cooperate with you in publicizing the John Marshall film "The Hunters" in connection with the appearance of Mr. Marshall's work in Natural History Magazine.

We are particularly interested to know whether you have approached or plan to approach any of the television outlets in New York -- network or local -- or whether you would want to authorize us to do so.

Also we should like to have a selection of still photographs for use in possible newspaper features to appear concurrently with the spreads in Natural History, if this is agreeable.

We will be looking forward to hearing from you.

I am much obliged to you for all you painstaking efforts to keep things straight and moving ahead in the Film Study Center.

I confess to a certain chagrin that the Rockefeller dinner has to go come to the way I had planned and expected it to go. I was sure in my own mind that the best plan was to work this one out, to be called in when we were needed, from the book of things (Weaver's letter etc.) you weren't left with any alternative to a chat with Buchanan. The West is strangely beautiful.

I have grown to like its immense quiet and spaciousness. Instead of being threatening, it is in fact comforting and friendly.

Regrettably, John has been very ill, with an unguisosed malady. He is burnt out spiritually and endures physically at this moment. I have just come from his tent and extracted a promise that he will go to a hospital in a few days to get some tests. Let me add a few words to the note I wrote you some days ago. I realize that both will reach you simultaneously, what with our 31-monthly collections here. I regret to say my fears about John have not been proven false. He goes out tomorrow suffering a relapse from a slight but very short illness. He is a strange boy, I'm not sure why I think him so young, but not so strange as his behavior recently would suggest. In certain he needs careful medical attention and I would dispense a long rest and recuperation period as well. He'll see. He is shuttled to the point of absurdity and I only fear the harm this might do himself. Dick and I will holes down the tent for a week while Bob repatriates us and take John to Windhoek. We got the cable about last, that is most pleasing. I hope you will now Stein all to bring off the Ford

Dear John:

Thank you for sending a copy of your Air Mail letter of May 8 to John Marshall in the Kalahari.

I certainly don't find the rearrangements of the text which you have mentioned to be at all "excessive" and I feel sure from my knowledge of John Marshall that he won't either.

Plans of Marshall and Gardner for the return are still not completely definite but we have heard by radio that they have left the !Kung area and are somewhat slowly working their way out to civilization. Consequently you had better not send any more stuff over there after receipt of this letter without checking with us up here.

As for paying for the pictures, I should think the thing to do would be to send a check to the Museum. Laurence Marshall is up in Nashua today so I can't ask him. So far everything that has been paid to either John Marshall or Bob Gardner for articles, TV shows, etc., they have plowed back into the Museum funds, so I expect this will be all right.

Dear John,

I write as Part I of the !Kung goes on press, to report my stewardship. First, let me say that your detailed comments, updateings and caption material were invaluable. Second, that - in Part I - not every text correction could be made in exactly the form you wished, since we were already in page-proof (with all the measurements therefore final) when your letter arrived. However, lest you have fears about possible blunders, here, both Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were kind enough to review text and captions, in their near-final form, and - while purity of prose may have suffered here and there in the process of reconciling the corrections - the facts are all in line.

Third, let me assure you that, in the case of Part II, which we are closing for page-proof now, no such problems will exist and all corrections and revisions in text have been embodied in accordance with your letter. (I make one exception:

in the infanticide portion, you asked for the following:

the infrequent practice of

"Among the many reasons for/infanticide, and not one of the most active reasons, is that a woman feels she could not carry another child when the band moves. The child is born, etc..."

This seemed overweighed with double negatives to me, and not overly graceful. I have therefore taken the liberty of substituting the following:

"Infanticide is uncommon among the !Kung, but one of the various reasons for the practice is that a woman may feel she cannot carry another child when the band moves. Then, the baby is born into a tiny grave, and the grave is closed."

On reviewing the galley, I see I must mention another exception. In all that about the grubs migrating down the trunk, shedding and slimily getting a sandy shell, with its two "perhaps"s, I felt we got on with the narrative more smoothly by the following:

"Hatching in the rains, the grubs migrate down the trunk, progressing through a number of growth stages. Finally, they make their cocoons under the ground near the tree. In these cocoons, they struggle through metamorphosis, etc."

I hope that neither of these liberties appear excessive. If the pests are reasonably swift, you can overtake them both (and I am sending a copy of this note to Cambridge, as well, as an additional check).
As soon as we are off press, I shall airmail you tear-sheets of Part I. On receipt, you will notice that - while we were able to incorporate all the factual points on the various picture captions, in greater or less detail - the caption lengths dictated by layout did not allow verbatim use of your caption material. I trust I have at least caught the spirit (except that I was not inflamed with affection for the suggested "caryatids").

Such Brocrustean manipulations will, of course, be necessary with the captions for Part II, as well. However, I shall also be sending these pages to Cambridge for a final check, so that there is little to fear regarding factual error. In this connection, mice (as an item of væðkog) were stricken from the body text of Part I by Mr. & Mrs. Marshall.

To pass to your concluding remarks, I can well appreciate what a task it must have been to take time from field activities to give this material the intensive review you did. I cannot, of course, hope to recover for you the time lost. But I would like to give you a sincere assurance that the time was well-spent. You call the final result a "good article": I think you value it too low. It is, at the very least, a superior article.

With best wishes,

John Purcell

Dear Dr. Brew:

This is a brief confirmation of our telephone conversation of today.

What we need to have are:

1. The legal titles to the two trucks which Mr. Marshall received from the Army.

2. A statement listing the parts Mr. Marshall received under the various Purchase Orders the Smithsonian Institution issued to the Army.

In addition, can you advise us when Mr. Marshall expects to return? Plans for the disposal of the trucks will have to be made in advance of any final action as Federal regulations about such disposal must be adhered to rigidly.

A copy of Dr. Carmichael's letter of August 23, 1957, to Mr. Marshall is enclosed for your information.

This letter will give you additional details you may need.

I appreciate your help on this matter and am sorry we have to worry you with it.

Sincerely yours,

Remington Kellogg

Mr. Lawrence K. Marshall

Dear Laurence:

On my return from Europe, I was pleased to learn of the progress being made by Mr. Shepard in obtaining two army trucks for the forthcoming Peabody-Harvard-Smithsonian Expedition to the Kalahari Desert. The check in the amount of $2,000.00, which we have received, will be used to defray expenses incurred in connection with this project.

For records purposes, the following statement is furnished in confirmation of your telephone conversation with Mrs. Campbell and Mr. Shepard.

1. The trucks are at Letterkenny Ordnance Depot, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania.

2. The kits are at Raritan Arsenal, Metuchen, New Jersey.

3. Mr. Shepard is mailing two sets of license plates to you at the Peabody Museum.

4. It is our understanding that, as soon as possible after you receive the license plates, you will arrange to pick up the trucks and kits.

5. Since it now appears that you may have these items picked up by a commercial trucking firm, we must be advised as soon as possible of the name and address of the firm, the name of the driver of the truck, and the date(s) the material will be picked up. We can then prepare specific authorization to the driver(s) to represent the Smithsonian Institution in this matter. This is particularly important because the Pentagon has been advised that you, John, or Robert Gardner would be the Institution's representatives, as originally planned, and any change must be clearly stated so there are no delays or misunderstandings.
6. The enclosed copies of the Purchase Orders covering the trucks and the kits are to be given to whoever picks up the material. The Property Disposal Officer at the depots may ask for these but, if not, they can be returned to us.

7. The trucks, by Federal Regulations, become the property of the Smithsonian Institution. Therefore, whoever receives them must be certain to obtain the necessary transfer document properly filled out from the Property Disposal Officer at Letterkenny, and forward these papers to the Supply Division, Smithsonian Institution, Washington 25, D. C.

8. The conversion kits, we are advised, may not have tires, but this is not definite.

9. Unfortunately, since the tires are Federal property, they cannot be used as "trade-ins" for the purchase of new tires. Therefore any parts or tires that are not used by you in making the conversion must also be forwarded to the Supply Division, Smithsonian Institution, Washington 25, D. C.

10. Enclosed is a list of the spare parts that have been ordered, and which will be paid for from the funds you have supplied. These will be delivered to the Supply Division here in Washington and then sent to the point you designate.

11. If parts other than the ones listed are needed, the Pentagon advises that it will be necessary for you to accompany Mr. Shepherd to Mr. Shomo's office to select the additional parts. It has been indicated to us further that there is no possibility whatsoever of obtaining these additional parts at no cost; the Army must receive payment for them.

12. The conversion kits, which it was originally thought would cost approximately $1,200, have been obtained at no cost.

13. At this writing it is impossible to determine what final disposition will be made of the two vehicles. One thing we all have to keep in mind though is that they must be disposed of by some formal method. The exact procedure to be followed will depend a great deal, of course, on the condition of the trucks when the Expedition is completed. I will give this more thought, and try to settle it before you leave the country.
14. Enclosed is a copy of the letter from the Department of the Army approving the receipt of the trucks.

Though it might seem a bit presumptuous of me to commend one of my staff members, in this instance I cannot resist it. Things at the Defense Department are now tighter than they have been in many, many years. The acquisition of this material from them at no cost was achieved only through the exceedingly fine cooperative relationship established and maintained by Mr. Shepard with Defense Department units.

Sincerely yours,

Leonard Carmichael

Dear John:

Again let me express my appreciation of the presentation of the text and photographs of John Marshall's first Bushmen article in Vol. 67, No. 6.

My pleasure with the cover picture, which I did not know about before it arrived, prompts me to ask you a question.

You will remember that I ordered 400 copies of No. 6 (the invoice has already arrived) and 400 reprints of John's article in the August-September number. I should imagine that the cover for the August-September issue will not be one of our pictures, but in case your enthusiasm for this wonderful photography has led you to repeat with another Bushman shot on the cover, I wish to change our order from 400 reprints to 400 complete issues.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Brew:

We have made a thorough search here for the papers referred to in our letter of May 9, 1958, but we can find no trace of them.

If Mr. Marshall cannot locate them either we will have a document prepared to substitute for the title. The statement of parts received from the military is something we will need so we can reconcile any invoice the Army sends for these.

It would also be appreciated if Mr. Marshall would advise us where the trucks are now stored and the name of the person or firm responsible for their storage. We need this in our records for audit purposes.

As soon as we know the status of the Purchase Orders issued by us to the Army, the Secretary's attention will be directed to Mr. Marshall's request for the return of the unexpended balance.

Thank you for all of your help in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Thank you very much for your letter of July 16. I am grateful for your assistance to us in this matter of the transport for our joint expedition. Mr. Marshall is at present at his summer home in New Hampshire. I read him your letter on the telephone this afternoon. He is coming to the Museum on Tuesday and will then get in touch with you to clear up the various points.

I am leaving on Monday for Europe and will be gone until the middle of September. I think, however, that Mr. Marshall and my secretary, Mrs. Gifford, will be able to work all this out satisfactorily.

Dear Mr. Kellogg:

Since I talked with you on the telephone in May, the enclosed papers, which I believe are copies of those sent you last October, were returned from Africa. I hope they are what you need.

The trucks took quite a beating, but have been repaired and are usable. They are stored in Windhoek, South West Africa in a warehouse owned by a cooperative called W.C.T.U., a quasi governmental institution. The firm of S. Cohen Ltd. arranged for their storage.

I imagine these trucks could be sold for a few hundred dollars, but there is a possibility that we would like to use them again sometime. If it is not too troublesome to keep them in storage a while, we would like to do so.

The spare parts sent were inadequate, some didn't fit. We had to buy several hundred dollars worth from junk dealers. On the positive side, the trucks did a real service. We got around to areas we could not have been able to otherwise. We are most grateful to you for your assistance.

I do hope you won't have much trouble with this matter. I understood the trucks were transferred without accountability. If I can help by coming to Washington, I will be glad to do so.

Sincerely yours,

Laurence K. Marshall

Dear Dr. Brew,

I have at last received and reprints of my study (2nd installment) of the Bushman-Kalahari Languages, and I am sending you 100 copies. They will come by slow transport which will take about a month.

I have also a third study on the "Click Language of the Kalahari (Central Group)," which, I am told, will appear in March next. Can one, however, rely on such promises? I shall also send you reprints when they are available.

I am at present engaged in a collection of Korana Folktales which I hope to publish in monograph form, as it will be a fairly substantial piece of work. And, next, a comparative study of the Bushman and Korana Language, as I still have not gathered enough material for this purpose.

I hope you and the Marshalls are keeping well. Has J.P. Marshall published anything further in her very interesting field of study?

With kind regards

Yours very truly,

Thank you for your letter of 1st November. We look forward to receiving the copies of your second paper on the Bushman Kalahari languages which you are so kindly sending to us.

The Marshalls are both well. I had lunch with them yesterday noon with a Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Clark who have been for many years in the Bechuanaland government, and upon his return to Africa will go to Maun as D.C. He has been at Maun before, leaving there in 1950.

Please give my very best to Dart when you see him.

A second cablegram arrived Wednesday morning (April 2).

As per the second cablegram, the work print of Reel 28 in the third shipment was projected, and several short stretches of jumpliness appeared on the screen (I marked the first such section with tape). Examination of the original film shows damage to every alternate sprocket hole. (The bad sections can be identified by alternate variations in the thickness of the frameline. From frame to frame, the thickness goes thick, thin, thick, thin, etc.) Even in the good stretches of this reel, the sprocket holes show some slight evidence of damage, and the frame line is about 8/1000 of an inch off center. This film was taken on the camera with the thin frameline. Examination of the latest batch of film taken with this camera shows the frame line only about 4/1000 of an inch off center, no apparent damage to the sprocket hole, and no variation of the frame line thickness as occurred in the jumpy film. In examining the one reel of the new batch in which the sprockets were torn, #25, there is no similarity to the situation of batch three. The torn section appears only a few feet after the start of the reel, suggesting incorrect loading. Dimples work their way down the film along the edge of the film, indicating improper threading over the sprocket wheels. As the film continues to crawl over the wheels, the loop is soon lost, jamming the camera and tearing the film. At this point, the white film indicates the cam was opened and re-threaded. After a few feet, the dimple marks appear again, the sprockets are once more torn, and the camera was opened and re-threaded again. This time it was threaded properly, as the rest of the 400 foot reel continues without trouble, and with no indication for sprocket hole damage. No other reels had this trouble.

The last batch of film was generally severely underexposed; I would guess anywhere from one to two full stop openings. On some sections even more so, with many sections that are practically black.

Would also suggest the use of a "skylight" filter to lessen the bluish tone when shooting in the shade or during an overcast sky.

The only way I have been able to distinguish between the cameras on which the film was shot was by examining the width of the frame line. On one, the line is under 2/1000 of an inch thick, on the other it is about 4/1000 of an inch. I've referred to these as the "thin" and "thick" frame lines. On the bad film from batch three, which was taken on the "thin" camera with the 2/1000 inch line, the line thickness alternated from 0 to 5/1000 of an inch.

Reel #6 of the new batch has a short section that is black, followed by a short section of white. I have placed a tape marker on the film where this occurred, about 100 feet from the beginning. I don't know what happened, but the rest of the reel is normal.

QUESTION - KALAHARI DESERT BUSHMEN

LORD OGMORE: MY Lords, I beg to ask the Question which stands in my name on the Order Paper.

(The Question is as follows:

To ask Her Majesty's Government whether they have any statement to make on the situation and future prospects of the Bushmen in the Kalahari Desert.)

The SECRETARY of STATE for COMMONWEALTH RELATIONS (The Earl of Home): My Lords, in answering a Question by the noble Lord on July 30, I gave certain information about the conditions of life of Bushmen in the Bechuanaland Protectorate. I had then planned a visit to the High Commission Territories, and this was one of the subjects which I intended to discuss with the High Commissioner. Unfortunately the course of events obliged me to postpone my visit, although I still hope to undertake it in the comparatively near future. I have, however, made further inquiries about the effect on them of the laws for the preservation of game in the Kalahari. I have confirmed that the game laws do not make it difficult for the Bushmen to live. The Kalahari Game Reserve occupies a very small part of the area where the Bushmen live. Outside the Game Reserve there has never been any restriction on Bushmen hunting and killing game for food, and this is still the position. The game laws are not enforced against them.

The High Commissioner is arranging for one of his administrative officers, after some preliminary training, to attach himself for a year to a Bushman group, to study and report on their living conditions, language and customs. I hope, too, when I am out there in, perhaps, the next few months, to have further conversations with the High Commissioner about their future.

LORD OGMORE: My Lords, I am obliged to the noble Earl for that Answer. Of course, we had anticipated that when this Question was reached he would have returned from that part of the world. May I ask him one question? Can he tell me what portion of the area which the Bushmen normally cover the game reserve occupies, and what area is outside the game reserve?

The EARL OF HOME: My Lords, if I may, I will communicate that information to the noble Lord because I have left it behind. I meant to bring it with me for it was the one question I knew he would ask. It is not a very large area.

LORD HADEN-GUEST: Could the noble Earl say what is the total number of Bushmen at the present time?
The EARL OF HOME: My Lords, ten years ago, when the last census was taken, it was about 13,500. But, again, when an officer is attached to the Bushmen we shall be in a better position to know their number and understand their problems.

LORD OGMORE: My Lords, may I say how grateful I am to the noble Earl for this action? I am sure it will do an enormous amount of good to the Bushmen and to us. It will give us more information about them.

Parliamentary Debates (Hansard)
House of Lords
Official Report
Vol. 200
No. 10
Tuesday, 27 November, 1956.
The House met pursuant to adjournment.

1. The Chairman took the Chair and read Prayers.

2. Mr. Lategan, in connection with his exit from the House yesterday, made a statement and declared that he intended no reflection on the Chair. If it was interpreted as such, it is to his regret, but he did not intend it as such. He however, objected to the word “persistently” in the Votes and Proceedings of yesterday dealing with the matter. Further he also objected thereto that it is noted in the Votes and Proceedings that the first time he was called to order he remained standing, and moved that the Votes and Proceedings be amended.

The motion for the amendment of the Votes and Proceedings was put and negated.

Thereafter the Chairman referred to a report in connection with the incident which was published incorrectly in “The Windhoek Advertiser”.

3. Dr. J. Brandt asked the Administrator:

(1) What are the activities or business of one Marshall amongst the Bushmen east of Grootfontein in the vicinity of the Aha Mountains;

(2) who is he and where does he come from;

(3) since when is he in South West;

(4) if he is doing research work, how many persons are there in his research expedition;

(5) is his research information available to the public, where and in what form;

(6) is the Administrator aware of any social fraternisation between the Europeans of this expedition and the Bushmen community;
4. Mr. v. d. Wath, M.E.C., moved, as an unopposed motion, seconded by Mr. E. A. Nel.

That the Notice of Motion for to-day stand over until Orders of the Day have been disposed of.

Agreed to.

(19) is this film recording in the possession of the Administration;

(20) does the Administration intend establishing a Bushman reserve in this area?

(21) if so, is it as a result of the influence and business of this Marshall expedition;

(22) will the needs of Europeans for land be considered before this Bushmen reserve is established?

The Administrator replied as follows:

(1) An expedition of the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology of the Harvard University in the USA have, at intervals, since 1951, been making study of primitive native life in the native areas of the Territory. The State Information Office and that of the Prime Minister were consulted beforehand. The first expedition entered the country in 1951 and left again The second expedition came in 1953 and also left again. In 1955, the third expedition was admitted and on that occasion the permit was extended to allow admission to areas outside the Police Zone in the districts of Goodfordon and Gobabis to enable the expedition to study Bushman life.

The most recent permit was issued on the 26th April, 1955, for five members. Some of them have since left. On the 15th March, 1958, a permit was issued for three more persons to join the expedition. Although the first permits were issued for an indefinite period, the latest permit is valid for three years. If the expedition enters the country, it is required to make no delay. Meanwhile a few of them have been asked to explain that the expedition will embark work on February 1st 1960, that the permits issued for an indefinite period were extended as the permits were extended for a limited period. And to extend the permit. However, no permit was issued for the study of the Bushmen and their way of life.

(2) Mr. K. Marshall is the leader of the expedition and comes from the United States of America.

(3) Since 1951 he has returned to the USA at intervals.

(4) At present a British scientist works in the expedition.

(5) He is doing research work on the meteorological conditions and it is necessary to know how to extend the information to the film of Bushman life and a set of photos have been presented to the Administration and are being kept in the Archives. The film has been shown on several occasions and only recently again in Windhoek.

(6) No.

(7) Yes, films and tape recordings are being made, but they are not censored.

(8) The Administration is not aware of any such film recording, but will ascertain whether this is so and act according to its findings.

(9) Falls away.

(10) The matter has been considered and an inspection in Leopold Field. No decision has been reached.

(11) No. Consideration of this matter was not due to the influence and activities of the Marshall Expedition but to the report of the Bushmen Commission which instituted an investigation of the matter during 1950.

(12) The European need for land is constantly receiving attention.
Dear Dad and J.E.

These are the questions that were asked in the Assembly and the answers the administrator gave them. The matter is now finished as regards anything that can be done. Claude is not worried now. I wanted to send this to you so that you would have the true story as there is a remote possibility of a garbled version getting into the press.

The expedition is over and we are all in Windhoek packing up. I am trying to store all these packs.
I do not yet know my plans, but I expect I will be home at least by the 20th of May. I will write more soon.

John
The house met pursuant to adjournment.

1. The Chairman took the Chair and read prayers.

2. Mr. Lategan, in connection with his exit from the house yesterday, made a statement and declared that he intended no reflection on the Chair. If it was interpreted as such, it is to his regret, but he did not intend it as such. Her however, objected to the use of the word "persistently" in the Votes and Proceedings of yesterday dealing with the mater. Further he also objected thereto that it is noted in the Votes and Proceedings that he first time he was called to order he remained standing, and moved that the Votes and Proceedings be amended.

The motion for the amendment of the Votes and Proceedings was put and negatived.

Thereafter the Chairman referred to a report in connection with the incident which was published incorrectly in "The Windhoek Advertiser".

3. Dr. J. Brandt asked the Administrator:
(1) What are the activities or business of one Marshall amongst the Bushmen east of the Grootfontein in the vicinity of the Aha Mountains;

(2) who is he and where does he come from;

(3) since when is he in South West;

(4) if he is doing research work, how many persons are there in his research expedition;

(5) is his research information available to the public, where and in what form;

(6) is the Administrator aware of any social fraternisation between the Europeans of this expedition and the Bushmen community;

27th May 1958

(7) are filmed and tape recordings made by this Marshall and are they censured before they are sent overseas;

(8) was a film recording made by the Marshall expedition of native cattle from Bechuanaland which were recently shot in this vicinity as a result of foot-and-mouth-disease regulations;

(9) is the film recording in the possession of the Administration;

(10) does the Administration intend establishing a Bushman reserve in this area;

(11) if so, is it as a result of the influence and business of this Marshall expedition;

(12) will the needs of Europeans for land be considered before this Bushmen reserve is established?

The Administrator replies as follows:
(1) An expedition of the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology of the Harvard University in the U.S.A. have, at intervals, since 1951, been making a study of primitive native life in the native areas of the Territory. The State Information Office and that of Prime Minister were consulted beforehand. The first expedition entered the country in 1951 and left again. The second expedition came in 1953 and also left again. In 1955, the third expedition was admitted and on that occasion the permit was extended to allow admission to areas outside the Police Zone in the districts of Grootfontein and Gogabis to enable the expedition to study Bushman life.

The most recent permit was issued on 20th April, 1955, for five members. Some of them have since left. On the 18th March, 1958, a permit was issued for three more persons to join the expedition. Although the first permits were issued for an indefinite period, the latest permit is valid only until 30th June 1958. Mr. Marshall has in the meantime [sic] been asked to conform that the expedition will end its work on or before the 30th June 1958 so that the permit issued for an indefinite period may be canceled or a new permit for a limited period substituted for it.

(2) Mr. L. K. Marshall is the leader of the expedition and comes from the United States of America.

(3) Since 1951, but he returned to the U.S.A. at intervals.

(4) At present it consists of four members.

(5) He is doing research work for an overseas museum. It is not known to what extent this information will be made available to the public. A film of Bushman life and a set of photos has been presented to the Administration and are being kept in the Archives. The film has been shown on several occasions, and only recently again in Windhoek.

(6) No.
(7) Yes, film and tape recordings are being made; but they are not censored.

(8) The Administration is not aware of any such film recording, but will ascertain whether this is so, and act accordingly to its findings.

(9) Falls away

(10) The matter has been considered and an inspection in loco held. No decision has been reached.

(11) No, consideration of the matter was not due to he influence and activities of the Marshall Expedition, but to the report of the Bushmen Commission which instituted an investigation of the matter during 1950.

(12) The European need for land is constantly receiving attention.
